"NIL PALAE AUDEAM. NIL VERI NON AUDEAM DICERE". (Cicero.)

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 20th, 1862

The Upper Provinces.

In yesterday's impression we gave some alarming intelligence from Rioja and Salta. The Chacho is supposed to meditate a coup d'etat, and the provincial government, not having physical force enough to resist a score of free-booters, prepares to fall with out a struggle. The rumor may be exaggerated, yet it is difficult to reconcile the idea of a stable authority in Rioja which does not count on the friendship of Salta. What may be the immediate cause of the rupture, we have not learned, and this would throw some doubt on the paragraph of the "Libertad": it is not, however, improbable that the matter is ill-affected is large, and the ambition of the caudillo may be stronger than his good faith. The residence of the notorious Sun and Clavero, in Jujuy, is the more surprising as they were expelled from Chile: they probably feel quite at home, and if threatened with molestation will change the venue to Bolivia. Although they do not possess the local prestige of the Rioja General, we do not like the presence of these birds of ill-omen, who seem expecting a storm, to ride on the whirlwind.

The news from Salta is cheering: the elections have returned General Mitre and D. Marcos Paz for the Presidential dignities. The Government had issued a circular to the Municipalities of the province, begging each district to send one or two youths to the College and provide for their maintenance there. The Bishop of Salta solicited a perfision for the service of the Cathedral, which the Government granted. The Franciscan friars also raised a subscription in aid of 30 or 40 clergymen to arrive from Europe for that mission. The expedition against the Chaco Indians was not very successful, owing to the small and ill-armed force (70 men) which undertook such arduous duty. The campaign lasted 45 days, but in the two slight encounters mentioned we hear of no casualties on either side. The Indians fled towards the Bolivian frontier, and seizing advantageous positions, defied pursuit. A among the many evils of the late unhappy war, the abandonment of the fortresses on the Vermejo has been attended with most disastrous consequences. The left or eastern bank is completely exposed to attack, and the Llanos del Manso swarm with wandering tribes who live by plunder. The Bolivians, meantime, have founded a strong outpost on their side of the river, about 10 leagues above Esquina Grande, with the romantic, though ill-chosen, name of Palmyra. There are 180 families, counting 498 souls, with 12, 272 head of horned cattle, 2,520 horses, and 5,715 sheep. The "Presna" of 15th congratulates the province on this valuable settlement in so important a position, commanding the navigation of the Vermejo, which is destined to become soon a commercial highway. The Government, anxious to favor the new colony, has given them the services of a learned German land-surveyor D. Federico Stuar.

The Cordoba diligence, which arrived in Rosario 1712 inst. brought 14 passengers and specie to the amount of 15,000$ and 545 doubloons. We have no news from Rosario except a letter from our esteemed correspondent the English Consul, stating that his custom-house hitherto are at the disposal of all parties bringing cotton to be ginned under his immediate inspection: he favors us with plans and a list of prices of the various rollers, and saws, gins requisite for this labor. The Argentine republic owes a debt of gratitude to the English Government and its worthy representative for their efforts to develope the native fertility of this country.

Our Local Politicians.

"There is a tide in the affairs of men"—at least, so Shakspeare says—and we have no doubt, were he in Buenos Ayres, that he would say that the tide here was politics, for no human who attempts to set along in this country, has the slightest chance of success, except by politics. Politics are, in a few cases, for put by a few dollars; the many buy land and sheep and houses; but in the eyes of all sensible people, he is a mere pigmy, alongside the possessor of one politician.

There have been, is, and true, in other countries, men of some talent—such as Burke, Canning, Grattan, Pitt, etc.—but, on a correct examination of their speeches, it will be remarked, that, for comprehensiveness of expression, intrepidity of calculation, and innate local genius, they are as nothing in comparison to some of our modern Buenos Ayres legislators: in fact, some people are beginning to think we have got too much genius and intelligence amongst us, and that it is this flood of intellect which is hardly distinguishable from obstructing. But such people must have very limited ideas, and would probably try to force down our throat, that banks and railroads are of more importance than constitutions and reciprocity treaties. Some months back a measure was brought before the local Chambers, for absorbing the paper-money, and putting a fixed value on cuneos. We say, as a matter of course, so it was rejected and laughed at, and the unpretending Finance Minister regarded as A No. 2, for occupying himself with such contemptible matters as paper-dollars. Unfortunately, however, for these aristocratic legislators, the London 'Times' has taken the matter up, and compliments Sr Riesira for the simplicity of the scheme, and soundness of the measure. We mention this, merely to prove that politicians in this country are of a peculiar stamp, and seem to regard local more than the general good. There are many of our legislators for whom, personally, we entertain the highest esteem, even though differing with them in the politics of this coun ry. But we see with regret, the present state of things—the unsettled state of the interior—and we naturally ask ourselves, from whence does all this confusion arise. Is it not traceable more to the acts of our public men than the conduct of our fellow-citizens? Is there not, owing to the multiplicity of public men amongst us, a diversity of opinion on all the principal subjects which interest the country—which leading us on, God knows where? If the people have confidence in Gen. Mitre, then why is it that he is beset on all sides, with opposition to his plans? Reforms—great reforms, are necessary. No one knows this better than the man at present at the head of affairs; but if he considers it dangerous to commence too wholesale in his reforms, that may reason why he shall do nothing at all? By federalizing Buenos Ayres, he becomes enabled to introduce other measures, which will ultimately lead to the entire centralization of power, and the diminution of governments. What we want in this country is, one sound, good government, not thirteen or fourteen. But this can be arrived at only by the greatest discretion, and above all, by good example. Where now are all the ardent hopes and boundless expectations which, from Rioja to Bahia Blanca, were reiterated after the battle of Pavon? Have they been realized? We will not say that they are utterly blasted, but we do assert that, if they are ever to be accomplished, it is not by the discussion and support which we have found so much to deprecate.

Sr. Cullen's Immigration Bill.

Of all the themes of public discussion, the most popular by far is immigration. Natives and foreigners, capitalists and anti-capitalists, politicians and mere chaps, all cry out for immigration Nevertheless, we see little or nothing done in the matter. Buenos Ayres, from what motives we know not, has allowed all the provinces to go ahead of her in this respect. We have repeatedly called the attention of the Government to the importance of helping the immigrant to become a permanent, independent settler, but without the slightest result. The Banda Oriental has taken the lead, and we read in all the English papers glowing descriptions of the republic of the Uruguay.

It has fallen to the lot of a private individual to take the first step in the matter. Sr. Cullen's proposed law is a move in the right direction, and, with a few additions, must lead to most beneficial results.

The bill before the house is defective in many respects, and seems to have been got up in a hurry. We should recommend that certain decided advantages be offered to every married man who brings out his family to follow agricultural pursuits; that a commissioner be appointed, whose duty it should be to see that the immigrants are supplied, not only with land, but with seed and implements possible. It is impossible to suppose that poor, but honest people will come from Europe, merely for the sake of 20 squares of land, in some out-of-the-way place in this republic, ignorant of the language the customs, the money, and even the very geography of the place. It is all moonshine to suppose that such land and half measures will effect anything; and we regret to remark that a subject fraught with such incalculable results to this country attracts neither the attention of our legislators, nor a solitary observation from the press, usually so accountable in the extreme is it to see the apathy with which this matter is treated. Were half the time and attention which is now wasted upon other subjects, given to it, how much good might long have to regret that the river-boats come down without cargo, and the country parts remain so neglected.

Todavia el Algodon!

TO THE EDITORS OF THE "STANDARD"

PAVON, 11th September 1862.

MI AMIGO—I need not remind you that this day two months was a remarkable day in my society; and the occurrences of that anniversary induce me to give you some of my thoughts on the subject.

If I be deemed too practical a party, I must plead "guilty to the soft impeachment;" for we live in a practical age, and it is my ambition to be neither behind nor before my time, but to keep progress with it.

A cotton field may be said to be the antithesis of a battle field, yet I consider it more than a dream to believe, that ere many lowers pass over our heads, the extensive tracts around me may be glistening with the white locks of fleecy cotton pod. What a glorious initiative in the Government of the regenerated Argentine Nation, would it not be for the Executive to inaugurate such a transformation!

But practical facts start up for my considerati n. For most amongst the cares and troubles of the latter one or two of a fifty thousand men in the last great fight between the Northern and Southern State of North America. The wail of perishing operatives in the manufacturing districts of Lancashire rises my ears here on this battle field and although I see by the "Standard" that your monied men in Buenos Ayres are subscribing their ten ounces $ thousand of paper dollars to the Lancashire Relief Fund, I see no organization to prevent a recurrence of the sad pictures of distress, which you may behold existing at Preston by an extract from the Manchester Examiner.

Now my friend let me ask you as one who takes a profound interest in the country of your adoption and who is in a position to spread wholesome doctrine far and wide—have you a faith in the doctrine that "Prevention is better than cure?" Because if so, you will tell your readers that by sowing cotton seed where musket bullets have been sown with little productive results, and by scattering them far and wide over our extensive plains, such subscription as those now set forth for Lancashire relief would be needless. Such as works may & do begin slowly and gradually. I am not a schoolmaster, I need scarcely tell you; but I would urge upon some of the young blood of Buenos Ayres to turn their attention awhile to study a few p ints connected with industrial development of the Argentine provinces and I put the subject in the simplest, very possible, leaving to their abilities to work out such questions as are applicable to the following,—"example gratis."—

In Mr. Pege's excellent work (*) he presents an estimate derived from a reliable source of the expenses incident to the purchase and cultivation of a quadra of land (a hundred and fifty yards square) and the probable receipts of the same from the cultivation of Tobacco. Thus: Of course Bolivian dollars are meant.]

Cost of land inclosed	$ 50—00
Four ploughs complete at $ 20	10—00
Eight oxen accustomed to plough at $ 20	160—00
One carreta or waggon	30—00
Seed for tobacco	120—00
Necessary implements	24—00
Total cost	$ 400—00

Charges on $400 at 12 per cent	$ 48—00
Three labourers 8 months at $ 8 per month	192—00
One laborer during the year $ 8 per month	96—00
Storage of tobacco	100—00
Tax on a quadra of land	2—00
Total expenses	$ 438—00

[*] La Plata, The Argentine Confederation and Paraguay p. 406.

The product of a quadra of land of tobacco 500 arobas at 2 or 12.000 pounds at 8 cents | 1000—00

From which deduct the expenses | 438—00

And we have the net remainder | $562—00

With this calculation I would refer some of your studious young men to the facts stated in Mr. Du Coins speech (which I sent to you) in case you have it,—to find out how many quadras in an acre, to calculate the production of 500 pounds of clean cotton to the acre, at its present value of 2 shillings per pound, realizing £ 50 per acre for each crop, to ascertain how many Estancias there are over the province of Buenos Aires, at each of which a few quadras might be cultivated, and to glean together a few practical points tending to the future of South America.

It used to be a reproach of the North Americans to England that Cotton was King in Lancashire. Alas the royalty exists no longer; for cotton has been deposed, and King Passive reigns in his stead. If our government and capitalists have more to seek as they are doing in India, Africa, Brazil, Queensland, Jamaica & Australia, none of my family could be a despotic monarch may longer; and the right article in the right place would command the best price in the market, where it is the desire to be of your obedient and ill-treated servant,

The "Times" on Buenos Ayres.

And River Plate affairs.

Late advices from Buenos Ayres give the particulars of a project of law framed by Senor de la Riestra, the Finance Minister, and presented to Congress by the President, General Mitre, for the future regulation of the currency, the fluctuations in which have long been a serious cause of embarrassment to all merchants interested in the trade of the River Plate. The plan proposed is sound and extremely simple An internal fund is to be created of 6,000,000 hard dollars, with 6 per cent interest in bonds to bearer, to be issued in certain monthly proportions to persons who may tender for them at par in notes at the exchange of the day, the notes thus paid in not being re issuable except when the bearer of the bonds may wish to exchange the bonds for paper at the rate at which they received them, and thus to return to their original position. In this manner, when the currency is declining in value, the amounts tendered for conversion will be proportionally increased and the tone of the market restored, while on the other hand, if the wants of business should cause increased activity in the circulation, the means of obtaining the old supply will be immediately available. There already exist certain appropriations which will be applied to meet the interest on the bonds to be created, and which will leave a balance for the gradual amortization of the principal. With the benefit thus imparted to the existing issues, and the assurance that there will in no case hereafter be increased; the paper money will soon acquire a definite value, which will be subject to no variations except such as are the natural result of the course of trade. The financial condition of the Republic, thus restored to steadiness, will harmonize with its public credit, which has already been solidly established by the exertions of the same Minister, and everything will have been removed that could interfere with the rapid progress which from its European elements, its fertility, climate, and free-trade system, it seems destined to achieve.

RAILWAYS IN BUENOS AIRES.

There are few fields in the world so inviting for British capital, enterprize, and emigration as Buenos Ayres and the immediately surrounding country. The introduction of Railways cannot but give an immense impetus to the development of the resources of the country. At present there are no good roads, and the expense of carriage to the cities and coast precludes the export of valuable raw material. The wool returns of last year show a continued increase in the quantity exported, while the quality is unsurpassed; the vast plains and the general nature of the country being highly favourable for sheep and cattle runs. Europeans find the climate invigorating, and life and property is as safe as in our own countries. Living is cheap, and from this fact alone all classes of emigrants are enabled to make a good footing in the country, and in a few years become independent. English views and English institutions are greatly in favour, and in the city of Buenos Ayres there are Protestant Churches of all denominations. The general trade between the two countries is rapidly increasing. In 1857, the imports into Buenos Ayres averaged £6 for £500,000 per annum, in 1860 they had risen to £1,800,000, and we have upwards of £2,000,000 sterling.—Daily Telegraph.

Italian Opera in Montevideo.

Dear Sir—

Last night our enchanting countrywoman, Miss Altieri, added another attraction to her numerous admirers, by singing one of our prettiest melodies—"The Last Rose of Summer"—at the conclusion of the second act in the opera of the Barber of Seville, which was given for the benefit of Mazzi

This was no small treat, contributing greatly in drawing a numerous audience, which has hitherto been very thinly attended. On the curtain being drawn up, she was for the moment awaited in breathless silence and entering, was greeted with deafening applause: As quick as lightning, the glasses flew to the eyes of every one, as if by magic, and concentrated, with fixed admiration, on the great and captivating focus

She was dressed in green, with a head-dress of the same colour, in imitation of a wreath of shamrocks. Thus she appeared, beautiful, charming—in fact, angelic—and undeniably Irish.

The melody was unquestionably sung, and the sons of Albion—perhaps more pointedly (if I be allowed to make a distinction), those of the Emerald Isle—could not but feel, as it were, wafted away to the dear and loved old country

Wish is that the company leave Buenos Ayres next week, depriving us of a benefit to our gifted countrywoman, which is deeply to be regretted, as I feel certain that, by a selection of one or two of our choice airs, interspersed through an opera, the characteristic gallantry of the sons of old Britannia would not be found wanting in testifying to the justly-entitled esteem of their kinswoman. What say you, Mr Editor The patriotic heart beats hors high, and only requires a call to cause every man to do his duty.

Montevideo, 18th Sept:

Navigation of the Salado.

The special message from the Government to Congress that we noticed a few days past is as follow.

The Governor of Buenos Ayres entrusted with the Nat. Executive.

Buenos Ayres September 15th 1862.

To the National Executive Congress

I have the honor to submit to your consideration the petition presented by D. Esteran Rams y Rubert concessionaire of the Salado River Steam navigation company.

The petition requests 1st, a prorogation of twenty years which falls due the 31 st December proxime. 2d the confirmation of the obligations and rights conceded by previous laws and contracts 3 d the modification of the 3 d article of the law of Parana 19th August 1861 by which a guarantee of 9 per cent was given on a Capital of $1 200, 000 estimated cost of establishing the navigation as far as Mira flores in the province of Salta.

Respecting the prorogation, the Government believes that it is proper to concede it as requested by Da Esteran Rams in consideration of the the disbursements made by the concessionaire in the exploration and study of the river.

The modification relative to the guarantee the Government thinks, should be allowed not precisely on the sum of $ 1 200.000 estimated to as Mira flores, but on the effective amount of the works and expences which may be done up to Matará in the province of Santiago which would now become the obligatory limit of the concession whose amount must not exceed the abovementioned sum.

Finally, respecting the confirmation of the law relative to this concession. The Government considers that there is no reason for refusal and, as to the contracts, the Government will modify them as may be deemed convenient. May God preserve I. I. Ac. H.

LOCAL EVENTS.

CONGRESS—Deputies.—Mr Blanco proposed, yesterday, a subsidy of 40,000 pats, as granted by the late Parana Government, for the relief of Mendoza. It was passed to the Finance Committee. Sr Bocaro minute on the capital was laid, last night, before the Prov. Deputies COMMERCIAL MOVING—Our active young friend Mr. A. Furrer, has established an agency office in this city. We have no doubt that our trading public will afford him the patronage his intelligent character deserves.

THE POST-OFFICE OR THE U. KINGDOM.—During the year 1861, the number of letters, which passed through the 11,405 post-offices of England, Ireland and Scotland, was 598 millions.

The proportion of letters to the population was as 20 to each individual. The proceeds of the postal revenue amounted to £2,063,498 sterling; and the expenses to £2,000,016, leaving a nett profit of £1,161,085 equal to 116,-108,800 $ pap (at 20$ per pat,)

The staff employed is falsely set down in the Decreto at 18,473 since the official returns give 29,474 persons.

PRESIDENT.—The province of Tucuman has returned unanimously General Mitre for President and Dr. Marcos Paz for Vice President.

FLOURS AND MANNERS.—The Municipalities of both these parishes have called for tenders & repairs of the respective roads to the Capital.

FUNERALS.—Sr. Arcuenaga has presented a motion to the Municipality intended to bring about a great reform in funerals.

It has long been the custom for funeral processions to go through callo Florida a un principal street to show off the gilt coaches &c.

The proposed reform is that funeral processions in future must take the shortest road to the Cemetery and not a gaudy array of liveries and which make them appear more like marriage festivities than any other thing.

Corpus Christi.—We regret to have to inform Sr. Gimenez & Corrientes that the British Consul at Rosario does not feel inclined to part with his own cotton-gin, which is now in working order. But the prices of saw gins and the makers names are hereto subjoined.

The roller gin which was brought out by Consul Hutchinson, for he has a specimen of this as well as the saw gin —was so much injured in its passage by bad packing, as to be now inserviceable. But the use of his cotton-gin at Rosario is open to all persons under his own superintendence.

—Voici le texte de la proclamation que Garibaldi vient d adresser aux Slaves-Danubiens :

"Les artifices coupables des tyrans et de fomenter prejudg. ent vous tenus jusqu'ici jour divisés, cela à votre détriment, et vous avez été une proie facile pour vos tyrans et pour les tyrans étrangers.

Maintenant Heures des peuples est enfin chez vous. Soyez donc et à la veille de sortir du tourneau afin que chaque nation obtienne son propre héritage. Il est temps que tous les peuples se préparent aux supremes batailles.

"Dans leurs cœurs, o vous aussi un foyer plus ardent sous peuple; oubliez les haines les discordes les préjugés de religion et de race. Unissez vous dans une seule pensée de vengeance et de liberté, et précipitez-vous impétueusement contre vos oppresseurs.

"Ne prêtez pas oreille aux promesses mensongères de la diplomatie, déliez-vous de ses artifices. Elle vous a traités et voudrait encore faire, et si vous le souffrez, elle vous trahira et vous vendra encore.

"Ayez seulement confiance dans votre valeur, dans vos armes, dans votre concorde.—Ayez confiance dans les peuples qui comme vous, veulent la liberté et combattent pour l'obtenir.

"Que les nations sont sœurs; elles n'ont ni convoitises ni ambitions coupables; chacune d'elles veut sa part du terre et du soleil; pour l'obtenir, chaque nation aidera les autres.

"C'est le devoir des peuples libres et de ceux qui veulent l'être d'accourir partout où l'on combat pour le droit des nations, partout où est sacré l'honneur de la liberté. La Servie, le Montenégro tout avec un entrépide courage la guerre au despotisme. C'est votre devoir d'accourir à leur secours; c'est votre devoir du venir au aide à ceux qui se lèvent les armes à la main, quels qu'il soient, contre l'Autriche et la Turquie. La cause de la liberté est une et quel que soit l'emerai qui combattre quel que soit le peuple qui la défend, quelle que soit la couleur du drapeau qui relient les armées.

"Quand tous les peuples auront compris cette vérité, que l'histoire et l'expérience durement déjà leur avoir enseignée; quand ils pratiqueront comme cette sainte loi de fraternité et de commune défense, le règne du despotisme sera fini pour toujours sur la terre.

"Moi, au nom de l'Italie,—je vous offre aide et amitié fraternelle.

"Italie, vous combattrons la despotisme d'Autriche, nous vous délivrer les autres peuples esclaves; et enfin, Purgueil des Hapsbourg abaissé, la barbare Ottomane refoulé dans ses déserts, les deux rivages de l'Adriatique seront habités par des nations libres, dignes de s'entendre et de s'aimer comme sœurs.

"GARIBALDI"

La Question Romaine.

C'est à juste titre que la question romaine excite parmi toutes les questions, l'impatience et le degout du peuple français. Rien de plus équivoque que l'attitude prise par la France et rien de plus pénible que la fausse position de nos troupes à Rome.

L'opinion publique réclame hautement du Gouvernement la solution d'une difficulté, dont lui seul est Pauteur, et Du Aberque à Bayonne, une seule voix exige l'évacuation de la ville, italienne par excellence. Toutes les fractions libérales de la France repetent par leurs journaux et leurs publicistes, les raisons qui militent en faveur du complet affranchissement de l'Italie et la' politique du Napoleon III se trouve aussi liée avec une école vigueur des deux cotés des Alpes.

Rome demeure pourtant toujours occupée et la dimension est devenue des plus sérieuses puisque sur les baynettes de nos soldats, que gémissent du noble oiliqueux qu'ils sont appelés à jouer. Un tel aissement diminutionne parmi toutes les populations de la Péninsule, que les Maximiens existent sans cesse par leurs proclamations incendiaires. La Pape et le clergé de Rome, loin de montrer reconnaissance de la protection dont l'Empereur leur couvre, soulevant mille obstacles sous ses pas. La Roi d'Italie manace, supplie, traite enfin pour arriver a cette évacuation de la Ville Eternelle, qui tout nous déclarons tout voit. Napoleon aurait il un effet quelque chimère projet? Nous nous le demandons, à plus forte raison la nation Italienne doit elle se le demander.

Tout ce qui pourrait suffit il pourtant pr justifier le moyen violent et extrême que Garibaldi vient d employer pour amener Rome du mains de l'Empereur! Nous ne le pensons pas.

Qui Napoleon ait été moins large et moins généreux dans ses vûes sur les destinées de l'Italie que les Italiens eux mêmes, cela est certain; mais ceux ci ne doivent pas oublier que, sans le secours Les armes françaises ils eussent été écrasés, comme ils le furent à Novare en 1849. C'est à Paide de Napoleon, qui en cela obéit à l'immense sympathie que la cause Italienne a toujours évoquée en France, que la Peninsule, presque tout entière, ne reconnait plus que son drapeau tricolore surmontait par la plus glorieuse des luttes.

Il reste encore, il est vrai, Rome et Venise à délivrer, mais est-ce par les armes?

Venise, on peut le croire, mais Rome, n'en est impossible. La France et l'Italie, les deux nations latines par excellence ne doivent pas plus en venir à la guerre que les deux peuples de race germanique. L'Allemagne et l'Angleterre, ne se la sont faite. La conscience humaine se soulève à l'idée d'une semblable pensée et mille fois, coupables sont ceux qui, par leur impatience tendent à en pareil résultat!

Garibaldi le sait, "Le peuple français aime la paix avec droit à son amour" Cela n'est dit il pas assez pour modérer les plus fougueux, et les engager à attendre que les événemens viennent mêlera l'accomplissement de leur désir.

Nous demanderons enfin, aux Italiens eux mêmes qu'ils nous apprennent ce qui semble le pouvoir exécuter au délà des Alpes. Victor Emmanuel est il dépossédé des destinées du pays, en est il le chef, ou a-t-il été remplacé par Garibaldi? Quand les ministres du Roi Gentilhomme viennent déclarer à la face du pays que Rome est l'objet de leurs constantes pensées, et que le moment approche où les vœux du peuple vont être accomplis, est il permis de jeter le gant à la France et de lancer un défi au pouvoir que la Nation a reconnu!

S'il est admis qu'un citoyen peut arborer prétendard de la guerre et de la révolte, quiconque pour faire plus vite, ce que le pouvoir régulièrement constitué veut faire plus lentement mais plus sûrement, si tout citoyen peut s'ériger en arbitre de toutes les questions nationales, disons adieu à toute forme de gouvernement et admettons, que l'Anarchie seule a droit de présider aux destinées des peuples!

La Question Capitale

Les chambres Provinciales émues de l'état critique de Buenos publ que et du Pincertitude politique, que regne depuis le rejet de la loi de la Fédéralisation viennent d'adresser au Pouvoir Executif une note de communication qui contient une contre proposition au projet repoussé.

Il est facile de voir que les Chambres ne cedent en ceci que à la manifestation des vœux généraux et qu'elle ne font qu'obeir elles-mêmes de la situation tendue que la question de la fédéralisation a créé. Elles proposent donc au Pouvoir Executif du faire de B. Aires la capitale de la confédération et la siége du Gouvernement, pendant une période de cinq ans, avec la juridiction complète dans le municipe, en tout ce qui regarde l'administration, mais en laissant au conseil municipal son pouvoir judiciaire et législatif

Afin d'apprecier plus exactement les effets de transaction des adversaires de la Fédéralisation, nous en donnons la teneur.

Note de communication.

A Pouvoir Executif.

Les chambres Législatives de la Province qui dans l'exercice de leurs droits, ont repoussé le projet de Fédéralisation, qui consacre par le Congrès de la Nation, veulant montrer leur ardeur desir de coopérer par tous les moyens en leur pouvoir, à la complète réorganisation de la patrie commune, et voulant en même temps fournir la preuve que c'est le patriotisme qui qui les guie, quand il exigé des intérêts de la République, supplie le Pouvoir Executif de vouloir exposer au Congrès que à qui appartient exclusivement le droit sanctionner les Buenos Aires sur la question pendant, qui tient non seulement les habitants de cette ville, mais encore tous les citoyens de la Confédération dans l'expectative la plus pénible.

Pense-t-il que le pouvoir moral et matériel de cette Province est l'unique base sur laquelle puisse s'élever la future Cité Nationale, qui projete par les institutions ou auxquelles tous puissants, exige, pour la consolidation, que le siége du Gouvernement general soit placé dans les centre puissant de tous les éléments les dèlegons de cette province ne peuvent consentir à en opérer la dèsapitie, c'est à dire à ce qui la prive de toute sa vitalité en la condamnant à périr sous les secousses de cet abandonnent et ils croient que le meilleur moyen pour obtenir la consolidation de la paix déjà conquise et le développement de tous les germes de progrès, jusqu'ici, contenus dans leur cœur, est de tirer la résidence des autorités de la Nation dans cette ville, pour une période qui ne sera pas moindre de cinq ans, avec la juridiction complète sur le municipe, en tout ce qui est administratif, vous réservo toutefois que le conseil municipal, dont les séances sera toutefois que le conseil municipal, dont les séances seront encore pour pouvoir judiciaire et législatif.

Les Chambres Provinciales ne se dissimulent pas les inconvénients qu'offrira le projet précédé par elles comme unique solution de la question actuelle. Mais ces inconvénients, quelque graves qu'ils soient, non préférables à la situation violente qui règne aujourd'hui.

L'Assemblée Générale de la Province, en adressant cette communication, croit accomplir une acte de patriotisme. Que le Pouvoir Executif prenne l'initiative de la direction de la politique qui répondra aux nécessités du pays.

Buenos Aires Septiembre 15 1862.

Comte Becour.

Tel est le projet et nous croyons qu'il est loin de s'éloigner l'attente du public, qui comprendra difficilement que les Chambres refusent par principe le tout, quand ces mêmes principes leur permettent d'accorder la partie. Nous doutons fort que le Gouvernement toutes légalités dépoyer une proposition aussi inconsidérée et nous en qu du reste la sonne d'aujourd'hui nous apprendra.

Immigration.

Dans la session du 18 7bre, de la Chambre des Sénateurs du Congrès, le Sr. Cullen a présenté le projet suivant :

Projet de loi.

Le Senat et la Chambre etc.

Art. 1° Autorise le Pouvoir Executif à passer des contrats pour l'immigration étrangères en donnant en propriété des terres nationales.

Art. 2° Le maximum de terres que donnera le P. E. sera de vingt cuadres carrées pour chaque famille, qui en requerra la prop iété après une per iode de quatre ans dédiée à sa culture.

Ce projet de Mr. Cullen a été renvoyé à la Commission.

Culture du Coton.

Suite.

Les feuilles ont aussi en général peu ou beaucoup de duvet, surtout pendant les jeunes, qu'en offrent à la jouissance des enfants. Les plus grandes feuilles qui dépassent quelquefois sept pouces en longueur et douze en largeur, en manquent ordinairement. La capsule, grosse en fruit, est le plus ou moins globuleuse et varie beaucoup de grosseur, le plus grand diamètre qu'elle atteigne étant de un pouce à un pouce et demi. Aussi tôt qu'elle mûrit, elle s'ouvre parfaitement et présente ses flocons généralement blancs comme la neige, plus rarement paillevx et alors de qualité inférieure, lesquels se dégagent de leurs cavités avec tout de facilité, quels tombent à terre, si on ne les cueille le jour même de leur apparition.

Ces flocons enveloppent complètement les graines, que l'on en sépare facilement au moyen d'un machine à simple.

Les graines sont au nombre d'une quinzaine, quelquefois il n'y en a qu'une demi-douzaine et parfois, mais rarement elles s'élèvent à une vingtaine; elles sont recelées dans les trois alvéoles que contient la gousse.

Climat et terrain qui convi ent le Cotonnier.—Cette plante demande un climat chaud et un sol meuble tempéré; de manière que la moyenne moyenne de température de 18,75 degrés centigrade à l'ombre au mois d'avril puisse assurer une bonne recol e.

Le coton ne exige une terre nouvellement ou noble, légere, friable, arrosée ou fraiche, assez profonde afin que la racine pousse sy enfoncer, bien travailler et nettoyer de toutes herbes ou racines étrangères, en un mot une terre propre à la culture des plantes jardinières.

A suivre.

Navigation à vapeur

Le gouvernement doit, dit on, allouer une subvention a la ligne de bateaux à vapeur qui unit de la capitale aux autres Aires et Patagones, Bahia blanca, c'est à dire cette partie de la province qui touche à la Patagonie.

Ces nouvelles communications ouvertures par la navigation à vapeur, tendront avec le chemin de fer du Sud à donner un grand développement à toute cette partie de la province, dont la fertilité est proverbiale. Les "Corrientes" est le nom du vapeur, qui fera le premier voyage sur cette ligne, et sou départ aura lieu prochainement.

A sure cure for the Scab in Sheep
No Sheep-farmer should be without it.

This double preparation which is now used by nearly all the wool growers of this country, is a certain and permanent cure for every case of scab, however inveterate, resulting in this comparatively short time, from the use of one material. Not only labor required to render the wash ready for use, but it can be made into the quantity of soft water, needed for the number of sheep to be washed. The most satisfactory recommendations of its efficacy can be produced, from the first practical Estancieros of this country now in the habit of applying it to the undersigned, and a decision for one we given on each tile.
